Special to The Tribune.

EOULDER, Colo., March 12.—The University of Utah this afternoon smotles acore of 41 to 18 in the opening game of a series of three for the Rocky Mountain basketball championship.

The visitors started out with a grandrost and had twelve points scored before the Colorado champions had made a point. They increased this lead until the end of the game. The first half ended with the Utah team fourteen in the lead. The Colorado players showed poor form in throwing baskets, but excelled in team work and at times played all around the visitors.

The Colorado players were erratic and their flashes of form did not last long at any time or accomplish much. The visitors played a variety of overthead basketball that bewildered Coach McFadden's proteges.

The two Colorado guards, Dunn and Wright, played with their arms in bandages as a result of vaccination for smallpox. Dunn played his poorest game of two seasons. Had he been up to form the game doubtless would have been much closer.

Van Pelt whom Dunn guarded, threw five field goals, but scored only one in the second half after the Colorado players had been instructed between balves. Wright played a good game in spite of his sere arm. Van Pelt and Beall were the siars of the day. The former scored fourteen of the points made by Utah and the latter six.

WANTED - NICKNAMES

A new nickname is wanted for the Salt Lake baseball club; also one is wanted for the Murray club. "Skyscrapers" is unwieldly and, besides, it never got Salt Lake anything better than second place. The Tribune offers season tickets for the "at home" games of the Salt Lake and Murray teams for the best nickname to supplant "Skyscrapers," and for a name for Murray. "Mormons" and "Saints" are barred, for obvious reasons. The plan has the indorsement of George O. Relf, president of the Salt Lake club, and Dr. C. P. Harveille, president of the Murray club. If more than one person submits the name finally approved by the president of the club, the winner will be determined by lot. Fill out the following and mail to the sporting editor of The Tribune:
